STRIKERS DISPLEASED.

The Terms Arranged at Columbus Not Entirely Satisfactory.

SOME OF THE MEN WILL IGNORE IT.

Coal Miners to Assemble and Discuss the Terms to Decide Out Until Entire Differences and Railroad Laborers at Issue

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 13.—Sheriff Irvin, of this county, received this morning from Agent Wilson, of the Lehigh Valley railroad, a telegram stating that the strikers at Sunbury had agreed to return to work at the old wages. This is said to be exciting a great deal of comment among the strikers here, and it is thought that the men will not accept the terms offered.

PITTSBURG, June 13.—The Commercial Gazette says: The Pittsburg coal operators have received no official notice of the settlement at Columbus, but they are confident that the strike will be settled in a few days. The miners will meet in convention at Columbus on the 18th inst., and it is expected that they will accept the terms offered. The Pittsburg operators will not open their mines until the miners have accepted the terms.

COLUMBUS, June 13.—The miners' convention was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning by President McBride. The first business was the reading of the report of the committee appointed to confer with the operators. The report was read by Secretary Wilson. It stated that the committee had met the operators in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The operators were represented by Messrs. Robbins, Hanna, Kerr, Perry, Watkins, Jones, Wheeler and Hanna. The miners were represented by Messrs. McBride, Wilson, Pearce, Rae, Lewis, Ratchford, Dolan, Penna, Kelly, Gilmore, Evans, Haddock, Hughes, Hall, Hunter, Hamilton, Hall, Hunter, Hamilton, Hall, Hunter, Hamilton

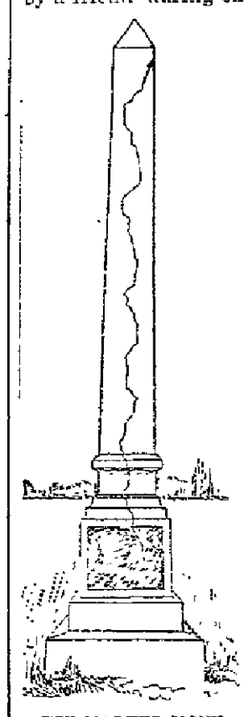
LIGHTNING AT PLAY.

IT IS PRETTY CERTAIN TO DO THAT WHICH IS LEAST EXPECTED.

A Man Tells How It Feels to Receive a Side Stroke From Nature's Electric Battery. The Lightning Rod's Decadence—Some Sample Freaks.

"Do you know how it feels to be struck by lightning?"

This question was propounded to me by a friend during one of the earliest thunderstorms of the season and just after an unusually heavy crash, almost immediately following a blinding flash. Of course I replied in the negative, and my friend rejoined:



THE MARKED MONUMENT.

"Well, I do—that is, I know how it feels to receive a part of a stroke, quite as much as I care to get—a sort of playful pat, so to speak. He who receives the full force of a lightning stroke knows nothing, feels nothing. Even if he be not killed, he is rendered unconscious. But the sensation of receiving a partial stroke is most singular. It is something, too, that you do not care to experience for the second time.

"It was when I was but a lad that I felt the lightning's force. I was living at home with my parents in a little country village. The day was warm, no one was in the house but myself, and I was sitting by an open window reading the 'Old Curiosity Shop.' If you are familiar with Dickens, you are aware that he delighted to portray storms, and that his pen was rarely more graphic than when he depicted their turmoil. I had reached this passage: 'Large drops of rain soon began to fall, and as the stormclouds came sailing onward others supplied the void they left behind and spread over all the sky. There was heard the low rumbling of distant thunder. Then the lightning quivered, and then the darkness of an hour seemed to have gathered in an instant.'"

"What immediately followed my reading of these words must have driven them into my memory, for I have not yet forgotten them, though I do not remember in what part of the story the passage occurs. The scene described by the novelist seemed to have been duplicated right there, for huge drops of rain began to flash in at the open window, clouds went scurrying across the blue summer sky, and 'the darkness of an hour seemed to have gathered in an instant.' Then there came an awful noise, such as I hope never to hear again, and at exactly the same moment a light far transcending that of the noonday sun. Then I was conscious of utter, black darkness, such as I had never experienced before, and a silence more profound than that of the most absolute solitude. I tried to cry out, but I could not. I tried to rise, but I was powerless. I was not unconscious, but I could neither hear, see nor move. I could not even feel, but I could think very clearly.

"I knew at once that I had been struck. I was in no pain whatever, and as I had found that I was unable to help myself I soon ceased making any effort. After a little space my sense of touch returned slowly and with a sort of pricking feeling. Then a faint light was visible; then the power of motion came back gradually and with some pain. In half an hour my faculties had all returned, but I felt weak and dizzy. A fine, quiet summer rain was falling, and when I was well enough to go about I put on my hat and went out to seek for traces of the potent stroke that had so nearly done for me. I had not far to look. The bolt had struck the peak of the roof of the barn, which stood some 200 or 300 feet back of the house. The building had not been fired, but it was pretty effectually shattered. Splinters of pine were torn from the weather-boarding of all lengths, from 2 or 3 inches to 5 or 6 feet, and of all sizes, from that of wrapping yarn to that of a thick lead pencil. One of the largest splinters had been thrown from the barn clear across the yard into the highway. The glass in the barn windows had been splintered into long, threadlike spines, and the whole structure was so much of a wreck that it cost a pretty penny to put it in repair. It was fortunate that there was no live stock in the barn. If there had been, it must have been killed by the stroke. No," said my friend in conclusion, "there was no lightning rod on the barn, and the storm was followed by a perfect hoard of agents, who talked their wares to my father till he was nearly sick and finally bought a set of rods as much for protection from the importunities of the peddlers as for any additional security they might give to the buildings."

THE LIGHTNING ROD MAN.

So far as my own observation goes, the lightning rod agent does not make himself nearly so numerous as he once did. Certainly the percentage of buildings without the surmounting points is much larger than formerly.

Dread of thunderstorms is to many persons a most horrible thing. I know a man of the coolest temperament, a man who has exhibited genuine courage on more than one occasion of real peril, who will leave his desk when a thunderstorm comes up and walk up and down his office, wringing his hands and making a nuisance of himself generally. He says he cannot control his fears, and that is doubtless true, for he is keenly sensible to the ridiculousness of the figure he cuts. His doctor says that the man's physical system is probably affected deleteriously by the electrical conditions of the atmosphere during a thunderstorm, and that he is quite incapable of remaining quiet during its continuance.

There is one class of men and women who have a dislike for thunderstorms that is based upon experiences that are so definite and so disagreeable that it is not surprising that they have produced this result. They are the telephone and telegraph operators, and the stories they sometimes tell each other of streaks and globes of blue and green and red fire running along and skipping off the wires are such as to sometimes arouse scoffings on the part of the incredulous. Those who know the most about lightning harnessed by means of wires and unharnessed and pursuing its free course in the sky and among the the clouds, it is worthy of note, are not likely to scoff at any story that is told of the lightning. It is a curious thing, though, that, although there is no doubt of the existence of what appear to the observer to be balls of fire attendant upon thunderstorms, no one has ever succeeded in getting a photograph of such a display, while many plates showing forms of electrical phenomena not visible to the eye because of the rapidity with which the electric fluid takes its course have been developed.

Here are a few of the many curious results of lightning strokes that have been recorded within the past few years:

In 1883 Martin Campbell of Brooklyn was killed by a flash, and his body was found to be marked with a ring about the neck, as if he had been strangled by a hangman's noose, while curiously branching lines resembling the growth of a plant ran along his chest. These peculiar markings have been noted in more than one instance, and sometimes persons so marked have recovered from the effects of the bolt. Sometimes the lightning stroke will cure diseases, rheumatism being the disorder oftenest ended by this means, a marked instance of this sort being reported from a museum in New York a few years ago, when the stroke entered the place, skipped three inmates, struck the fourth, tore his clothes and left him for dead. He recovered in a few days, and to his joy his joints that were before distorted with rheumatism were supple and have since remained so. A monument in a cemetery in Lancaster, Pa., was struck by lightning in 1891. The shaft was of gray granite, but after the stroke it was all white save for an irregular line extending its whole length. This line is deep black in color and appears to be a concentration of all the coloring matter in the entire stone, which, by the way, was left quite sound. In a house in Rochester the leaden framings of a stained glass window were melted and the panes deposited on the floor, while the glass of a massive mirror was laid flat and unharmed on the carpet, though the frame was quite destroyed.

It is early yet for the lightning's freaks this year, but it has already begun in New Jersey. At Bridgeton the house of Mr. Zacchens Johnston was struck late in May. Johnston and his wife were stunned a little, but a Mrs. Porch was rendered senseless for an hour or two, her babe was burned horribly, and a gold watch under a pillow was melted. Yet nothing about the house took fire.

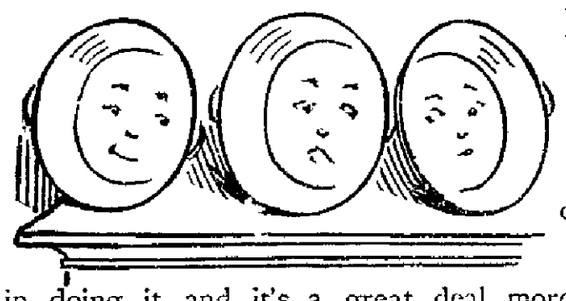
CHARLES APPLEBEE.

Peppermint Growing as a Business.

In St. Joseph county, Mich., a farm of about 400 acres is planted with peppermint each year and alternated with clover to keep up the strength of the soil. The cultivation of the crop requires more than ordinary care. From the time the mint appears above the ground it is constantly cultivated and hoed to keep it free from weeds, which are the bane of the peppermint grower's existence. Two or three crops are gathered from each planting. The first and second crops are the best, and 50 pounds of oil to the acre is considered a good yield. The third crop is very apt to be weedy, and the yield only about 10 pounds to the acre.

Vitality of Disease Germs.

As an evidence of the phenomenal vitality of disease germs, Dr. Koch of Germany and Drs. Ewart and Carpenter of England declare that the blood of animals and men dying of contagions may be dried and kept for years, and that they will then produce the class of infections to which they belong, this even after having been pulverized in a mortar and subjected to the lowest degree of natural and artificial cold.



Milk Pans,

and pails, and cans, and bottles (even baby's)—or anything that you want particularly clean, ought to be washed with Pearline.

You'll save work in doing it, and it's a great deal more thoroughly done. Dairies and dealers use Pearline extensively. Just try it once, on your milk-ware or butter-ware—and then say if it isn't the most satisfactory way of cleaning. Pearline is the most economical thing you can use, too. You get so much more out of it

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 385 JAMES PYLE, New York.

OUR NEXT PRESIDENT!

SOMEBODY will be the next President of the United States. The ARGUS and MERCURY gives to its readers the portrait and life story of the man who is GOING TO BE ELECTED

To the Presidency at the end of Mr. Cleveland's term. It would give his name here but for the circumstance that he is lost among 256 of the greatest men and women of America, and it is as yet impossible to distinguish him exactly. In "America's Greatest Men and Women," the remarkable work now obtainable through the ARGUS and MERCURY, appears certainly the portrait of the next President, because there appear in that work the portraits of all the leading men and women of the country, and among them most certainly is the chief executive to be chosen in 1896.

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

Is assuredly the most valuable and most interesting publication of recent times. The marvel is that such a work has not been produced before. It does not wait for death. It gives the portraits—and these portraits are 10x14 inches in size and are reproduced from recent photographs of all the people described—and gives a complete and graphic biography of each person. Think of the value such a work as this must be to anybody! Think of what an educator it must be for even the children who read it! Was there ever issued a book likely to be more attractive in all ways or more of an absolute necessity? It can be obtained in a manner which has already been described in the columns of this paper, but which may be here repeated.

You Can Get This Work Only Through the Daily Argus and Mercury.

HERE ARE the TERMS.

IN EVERY ISSUE OF THE ARGUS AND MERCURY will appear a numbered coupon. Cut this coupon out and bring or forward it, together with TEN CENTS, to the Coupon Department of the ARGUS and MERCURY and there will be delivered or mailed to you one number of the series as above. The remaining parts can be obtained as issued, one each week, by the readers of the ARGUS and MERCURY under the same conditions.

THE LAFORGE MURDER CASE.

The Second Trial Begun in the Ulster County Oyer and Terminer.

In the Ulster County Oyer and Terminer, at Kingston, Monday afternoon, the case of the People vs. William H. Laforge, of the town of Shawangunk, indicted for the murder of his wife, was moved for trial by District Attorney Westbrook. W. D. Brinnier appeared for the defendant.

One hundred and fifty extra jurymen had been summoned. It is expected that the trial will take the greater part of the week. The case was tried at the last Oyer and Terminer, when the jury failed to agree. The defense is a denial of the crime and that the woman must have committed the deed herself.

Locusts—Grass Crop Only Fairly Good—Improvements — Festival — Other Notes.

Correspondence Argus and Mercury.

—Locusts have made their appearance at this place.

—The wedding of Mr. Chas. Knapp and Miss Katie Swayze at the bride's home, last Wednesday, was witnessed by about 100 persons.

—Cherries are ripening nicely.

—The grass crop promises to be only a fairly good one, owing to the dry weather in the early part of the season.

—The addition to Mrs. Wallace's house is progressing finely, and when completed will add considerable to the appearance of the place.

—Mr. John Wright is erecting a new store house in McAfee.

—"Wit" Conklin's children are confined to the house with the measles.

—The addition to Mr. Yanzer's house is nearing completion.

—Albert Storms has been confined to the house for a few days past. While working on Mrs. Wallace's house a nail penetrated his foot.

—Mrs. John Arnott was visiting relatives in this place, last Tuesday.

—A festival will be held in the M. E. Church, Tuesday evening, June 19th. If stormy the next fair evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

—Charles Babcock is quite dangerously ill at present writing.

OLD BOY.

IN THE RAILROAD WORLD.

—The Ontario and Western reports earnings for the first week in June $72,535, as against $74,466 for the corresponding week in 1893, and $65,867, in 1892. Since Jan. 1st, the earnings have been $1,422,616, as against $1,502,768, in 1893, and $1,316,040, in 1892.

—C. W. Bogart, assistant general foreman in the Erie's Port Jervis car shop, has accepted a position of general foreman of repairs in the shops of the Wyoming Valley road at Dunmore, Pa., and will enter on his new duties at once. Mr. Bogart has been in the Port Jervis shops for twenty years and rose from the position of apprentice to the responsible position he has filled so creditably.

Ice Cream at the W. C. T. U. Rooms.

The W. C. T. U. propose to keep "open house" every public day when they will be pleased to see any of their friends. We have the pleasantest, coolest rooms in the city; just the place to enjoy a dish of cream and a chat with your friends, and at the same time add your mite to the treasury. Remember Thursday is the day, from 9:30 a. m. to 10 p. m., 134 North street, McDermott house.

Brother and Sister Thrown from a Carriage and Badly Hurt.

While Ed. Shebert and sister, of Callicoon, were returning home, Monday, from the funeral of Carl Nearing, who was killed by a runaway horse, Saturday, their horse took fright and ran away. Both occupants of the carriage were thrown to the ground and very severely, and perhaps fatally injured. Both were unconscious when picked up and remained in that condition for many hours.

Contracting for Convict Labor.

Ex-Warden Brown, of Sing Sing Prison, has applied for the convict labor of Kings county for a curled hair and brush fibre plant in the penitentiary. He would employ 150 men at 47 cents a day.

Fatal Explosion and Fire

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—An oil stove in the tenement house at 211 North Second street exploded and killed Rebecca King, 2 years old, and seriously injured Mrs King and her baby, who were sent to the Pennsylvania hospital. A fire followed the explosion and damaged the house and contents to the extent of $1,000. Mrs King was driven insane by the loss of her babe.

The Loss by Salvador's War.

SAN SALVADOR, June 13.—Provisional President Gutierrez is receiving adhesions from all sides. It is calculated that the loss on both sides in the late war was 3,000 killed and wounded. President Gutierrez has issued a proclamation declaring the leaders of the late revolt traitors. The Honduras and Guatemala governments have recognized the government of Gutierrez.

A Swindler Convicted.

READING, Pa., June 13.—A. J. Dress was yesterday found guilty of swindling in connection with the spring estate in Germany. Dress and his pals believe that they were the heirs to 17,000,000 marks and spent three years in Germany at their expense, endeavoring them in the meantime with bogus wills, family records, etc. Sentence was deferred.

HE STIRRED UP THE SENATORS.

Newspaper Correspondent Edwards, Who Wrote the Sugar Scandal Story.

Elisha Jay Edwards, the correspondent whose pen name of "Holland" is very familiar to American newspaper readers, has again distinguished himself, this time by revealing some of the secret processes by which the senate revised the sugar schedule in the Wilson tariff bill. In so doing Mr. Edwards has aroused the ire of the honorable senators, and they threaten him with all sorts of direful punishments because he refuses to violate professional confidence and reveal the sources of his information. Whether the correspondent goes to jail or not, the public knows a good deal more about tariff making in the senate than it did a few weeks ago, and as a conscientious newspaper man Mr. Edwards will probably be satisfied with that result.

This is not the first time that Mr. Edwards has given to the world important and sensational information. It was he who first promulgated the much disputed story about the surgical operation on President Cleveland's jaw last summer, and he rendered important services in unearthing the star route frauds in 1882. He was Washington correspondent of the New York Sun at the time and was known as one of the ablest newspaper men at the capital. Mr. Edwards gave the first news of Mr. Blaine's ill health in 1884 and has scored many other beats of like importance.

Editor Dana thought so highly of him that he was recalled to New York to become managing editor of The Evening Sun, in which position he ably maintained his reputation as an alert and sagacious journalist. Mr. Edwards is now in charge of the New York bureau of the Philadelphia Press and writes two columns a day on current political, commercial, scientific, literary and social topics. He frequently furnishes important and exclusive news to The Press, which is reprinted the following day in the New York papers.

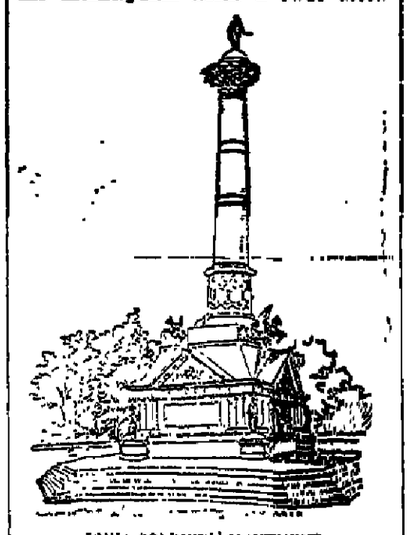
Mr. Edwards was born in New Haven about 45 years ago. He graduated from Yale in 1879 and in 1873 was graduated from the law school and admitted to the bar. He drifted into journalism and soon found it a more congenial field of labor than the law.

AN IMPOSING MONUMENT.

Iowa's Tribute to the Soldiers and Sailors of the War.

Models for the Iowa soldiers and sailors' monument to be erected at Des Moines at a cost of $150,000 have just been completed by Carl Rohl-Smith of Chicago and have been pronounced satisfactory by Governor Jackson and a committee appointed to inspect them.

The monument is to be 133 feet high and will be an imposing shaft of gray granite surrounded by heroic bronze figures. At the base of the monument are four figures eight feet high, representing soldiers of the infantry, cavalry and artillery, and the fourth the navy. The naval figure represents a sailor swinging a flag, which sways behind his athletic frame; the infantryman is a young soldier crowned with a laurel wreath; the cavalryman bears an upraised sword intwined with flowers; the artilleryman holds a swab aloft.



IOWA SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

The statue of Iowa is on one side of the base. It represents a young mother, with hands clasped to her breast, and the coat of arms and other emblems are arranged about the figure. History, a stern old man, with a child at his knee unrolling the blank scroll, appears on the opposite side of the monument.

Above these groups and surrounding the base of the shaft proper are four equestrian figures—Generals Dodge, Crocker, Curtis and Case. Under the gables of the base are figures of Generals Beckman, Ruch and Winslow, the fourth space being reserved for the coat of arms of the state. There are two bas reliefs on the base of the monument, one portraying the battle of Fort Donelson and the other the battle of Shiloh. About this base are arranged 33 portrait medallions of Iowa soldiers. These have not yet been selected.

ANOTHER DAY OF SPEECHES

Senator Quay Puts in Four More Hours in His Gone-You-Please Talk.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The absolute blockade of the tariff bill in the senate yesterday was in marked contrast with the wonderful progress made on Monday. Not a log was turned. The entire eight hours were devoted to set speeches, preliminary to the consideration of the wool schedule. Mr. Quay, who has been quiescent for five weeks, resumed the delivery of his speech, which has already occupied four days, and after speaking four hours his manuscript seemed unappreciably diminished. Then he yielded from sheer exhaustion, and Messrs. Pettigrew (S. D.), Power (Mont.) and Peffer (Kan.) rendered speeches against free wool. During a lull in the debate Mr. Mitchell (Ore.) moved to lay the tariff bill on the table. The motion, however, was without special significance and was defeated by a strict party vote. Mr. Chapman, the Wall street broker who refused to answer questions, was reported as contumacious to the senate by the sugar investigating committee, and a resolution was introduced to bring him to the bar of the senate for contempt.

Two hours were consumed in the house by a bill reported by Mr. Outhwaite setting aside $100,000 from the fund belonging to the estates of deceased colored soldiers of the civil war for the purpose of erecting in the District of Columbia a national home for aged and infirm colored people. The bill was passed. The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up, but the house adjourned without completing its consideration.

A BURGLAR SHOT DOWN

He and Two Pals Attempted to Rob a Farm House.

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 13.—About 0 o'clock p. m. three burglars forced an entrance to the residence of James Mueller, a farmer living in Bell township, near Perrysville. The noise made by the burglars aroused the inmates, who hastily jumped out of bed and rushed down stairs. They were no sooner down than they were confronted in the dark by the thieves, who commenced shooting, one of the shots taking effect in the hand and arm of a hired boy named John Mansfield. Mansfield rushed into an adjoining room and got a shotgun, and upon entering the apartment where the three ruffians were opened fire, the lead striking one of them, and he fell to the floor. The others fled and have since not been apprehended.

The neighbors were aroused, and it was soon discovered that the burglar was fatally wounded, the load of shot having struck him in the right side, making a terrible wound. He was shortly afterward identified as the notorious Jim Ward, of Apollo, who on the night of Nov. 18, 1891, murdered the two Means sisters near Sardis, and who was subsequently arrested, tried and convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for twelve years. Ward, having served his time, has been living with his family at Apollo since his return, and has been a terror to the community ever since.

A Triumph for the Harvey Plate.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Without notice, Captain Sampson, chief of the naval ordnance bureau, steamed quietly down to the Indian Head proving ground and fired two shots from the twelve-inch rifle at the armor plate against the testing of which under standard conditions the company and navy protested. The result was the complete triumph of the plate and the demonstration of the value and practicability of the Harvey process as applied to plates of this thickness.

An Accused Editor Acquitted.

MACON CREEK, June 13.—James W. Maloy, proprietor of the Lansford Record, was on trial in the Carbon county court yesterday, charged with having violated the election laws at the last election by printing two Democratic tickets in the same column for one of the wards in Lansford borough. After hearing the testimony Judge Albright directed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty, as it was shown that Mr. Maloy had merely acted under instructions.

Depew in Virginia.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., June 13.—The commencement exercises at the University of Virginia were continued yesterday with the joint celebration of the Jefferson and Washington Literary societies. Hon. Chauncey M. Depew was the orator of the occasion. One of the largest and most fashionable audiences that ever assembled at the institution was present and crowded the spacious hall to its utmost capacity. Vice President Stevenson also spoke briefly.

DAILY ARGUS.

C. MACARDELL, PUBLISHER.

GEORGE H. THOMPSON, C. MACARDELL, } EDITORS
J. F. ROBINSON, CITY EDITOR
A. E. NICKINSON, BUSINESS MANAGER

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1894.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has decided that the eight hour law is unconstitutional because it discriminates against farm and domestic labor and is therefore special legislation, and because the constitutional right of every citizen to contract as he pleases with reference to his own compensation is denied him. In spite of this decision, mechanics in any of the trades, if they are united and really desire an eight hour working day, can establish it by custom which in such matters is often stronger than law.

The Democratic Senators are trying to make an arrangement with the Republicans by which a final vote on the tariff bill may be taken next week. Nothing can be done until after the Republicans have delivered their speeches, for campaign effect, on the wool schedule, but after they have talked themselves out on that branch of the subject, there will be little left in the bill to wrangle over and with the three Populist Senators, Allen, Kyle and Peffer voting steadily with the Democrats, the futility of opposition will be so apparent that it is believed the Republican Senators will consent to allow the bill to be rushed through without debate and without formal division on every schedule.

Under the rule providing for representation in Republican national conventions in proportion to the Republican vote, which was prepared by the Honorable Dave Martin, national committeeman for Pennsylvania, that State will have ninety-six delegates, thirty-two more than it had in the last convention, and the largest vote of any State. Senator Quay proposes to utilize this great voting strength and it is quietly given out that he will be a candidate for the Presidential nomination. Of course he does not really expect to secure the prize; no one knows better than Quay that he is not of the stuff of which Presidents are made, but with a solid delegation at his back he will be in a position to exercise a great influence in determining the convention's choice.

President Havemeyer, of the Sugar Trust, in his testimony before the Senate Investigating Committee, made it brutally plain that there is no sentiment and no politics in business. With the utmost sang froid he acknowledged that the Trust had contributed money to help along political campaigns, making no distinction as between Democrats and Republicans in such matters, but always seeing to it that in whatever State, county and municipality the Trust put up for political purposes, the contribution went into the treasury of the majority party. Political contributions had been made in every State in which the Trust has refineries and always to the party in control, for it would have been a waste of money to have given to the minority party which had no legislative, executive or judicial favors to bestow. He had no idea how much the Trust's contributions to political purposes had been but would have the books examined and tell the committee the amount unless his counsel advised otherwise. When asked if the Trust had contributed to the anti-snapper movement in New York, Mr. Havemeyer held up his hands in an expostulating way and fervently exclaimed "My God! I hope not." The witness most emphatically denied that the Trust had ever given any money to aid in the election of any United States Senator. The most important part of Mr. Havemeyer's testimony was his admission that the profits of the Trust, which he said succeeded perfectly in controlling the market for refined sugar, had not been not less than $35,000,000 in three years.

THE SENATE'S PROCEEDINGS.

No Income Tax on Fraternal and Benevolent Societies—Resolutions of Inquiry.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Vest stated that the Finance Committee favored an amendment exempting beneficial, fraternal and all such societies from the income tax.

A resolution was adopted, calling for information in regard to the gold reserved by the governor since Nov. 1st, '93. Also one requesting the President to inform the Senate if any foreign governments had intimated that they would retaliate for the proposed imposition of a tax on sugar by the United States.

The tariff bill was then taken up, Senator Sherman speaking thereon.

THE PRESIDENT MUCH BETTER.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The President is much better to-day. He received a number of visitors on important business. After to-day the public receptions will be resumed.

THE PARISH TEA

A Very Pleasant and Successful Affair.

The society of the "Daughters of the King," of Grace Episcopal Church, gave another Parish Tea, last evening, at the Assembly Rooms. The following pleasing programme was rendered:

Glee..... Choir Boys
Song—"Vale Carissima"....Mr. H. L. Wickham
Mazurka..... Miss Bessie Beers
Song—"The Fatal Wedding" Mr Herbert Hurst
Recitation—"Pienics"..... Master John Bright
Song—"A Medley"..... Moonlight Quartette
Mr. Herbert Hurst, Mr. Chas Adams, Mr. Chas Gordon, Mr Arthur Townsend.
Recitation..... Mr. Gedney
Pianoforte Solo—"Tarantelle"..... Miss Julia Swalm
Reading—"Three Men in a Boat,"..... Rev. D J Evans
Song—"The Farmyard,".... Moonlight Quartette

In spite of the oppressive atmosphere, about two hundred persons were present, and the evening passed off most pleasantly. The "Daughters of the King" deserve the warm thanks of the whole church for the energy with which they have conducted these most successful gatherings. The proceeds of last evening were sixty dollars.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mr. George Wickham Receives a Substantial Gift from Church Friends.

Mr. George Wickham, choir master of the First Presbyterian Church, was very much surprised when he returned to his home, last evening, after a drive about the city, to find his house filled with friends from the church. Mr. James Little, as spokesman, presented Mr. Wickham with a purse containing two hundred dollars. Mr. and Mrs. Wickham gave their friends a cordial welcome and a most enjoyable evening ensued.

SPECIAL TAX ELECTION.

To Be Held in the Assembly Rooms, To-morrow—The Amounts Asked For.

The special tax election, to vote on the question of appropriating money for special or extraordinary purposes, as provided for in an amendment to the charter, made last winter, will be held in the Assembly Rooms, to-morrow, from 2 p. m., to 8 p. m. The voting will be by ballot and only those citizens whose names appear on the assessment rolls may vote. The amounts asked for are:

Board of Education—For addition to School No. 2, Highland avenue	$ 6 500 00
Permanent street improvement	5 000 00
Winding town clocks	100 00
Fire alarm system	500 00
Fire parade	350 00
Thrall Hospital	1,250 00
Gen Lyon Post, G. A. R.	50 00
Capt. Wm. A. Jackson Post, G. A. R.	50 00
Total	$13,000 00

There is no question that the city needs increased school accommodations and the Board of Education proposes an addition to the Highland avenue building as the cheapest, not the best, way of increasing the city's school facilities. The money ought to be voted.

Permanent street improvements are all right if they are wisely and economically made and are really permanent. Past experience has shown that many so-called permanent improvements are lacking in the one great essential of permanence. Moreover, $5,000 is a big sum to spend in one year for this purpose. Prudent taxpayers will think twice before voting for this item.

The city has run several years, even if the town clocks have not, and the appropriation for clock winding can just as well be knocked out.

The fire department items and the items for the Grand Army Posts cannot be objected to.

The Thrall Hospital item ought to be allowed. The hospital is a credit to the city, a charity of which we are all proud. The lady managers have a hard time to make ends meet, and the $1,250 asked from the city is not a large sum, when compared with the amounts granted smaller hospitals in other cities. The taxpayers of Middletown pay nothing for the support of the city's poor, and this hospital item is the only one in the budget that has charity for its object. The appropriation cannot be objected to on any valid ground, and citizens ought to vote for it with pleasure.

DIED.

Great Wonders Done

Lame Back—Heart Trouble, Faintness, Suffocation

Nothing Helped Till Hood's Sarsaparilla Was Given a Trial.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"For 15 years I was troubled with a lame back and pains in back of my head and neck. I could hardly endure it and was unfitted for labor. I grew worse. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended. I took one bottle and it cured me. I can do a day's work without my back troubling me. I also had heart disease, such faintness and palpitation. I

Could Not Lie Down.

Such suffocation! Am now taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for this trouble and can truly say it is the only thing I have found which gives me relief. I can now lay down with comfort, and sleep well. Hood's Sarsaparilla has accomplished wonders for me; I cannot praise it too highly." HORACE F. TRACY, Chittenango Falls, N. Y.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

PROCEEDINGS OF LAST NIGHT'S REGULAR MEETING

The Matter of Consenting to the Electric Road on Boston Avenue Laid on the Table—Appointments of Teachers for the Ensuing Year—Few Changes in the Corps—Other Business.

The Board of Education held an adjourned meeting, last night. The matter of granting consent to the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company, to pass the Boston avenue school property, was the principal subject discussed.

Mr. Marsh appeared and stated that according to the provisions of the city charter the Board had no voice in the matter, which was entirely within the jurisdiction of the Common Council.

He, however, presented a number of arguments against the project, in substance the same as those he presented later in the evening, to the Common Council.

Messrs. Finn and Rockwell had a preliminary tilt at this meeting, caused by the former's desire to officiate in the capacity of chairman.

The board heard both sides of the question and finally "laid the matter on the table."

The regular order of business was then taken up.

Applications from the present corps of teachers for re-appointment, with the exceptions of Misses Nelson and Rue, were read and ordered filed, as were applications from Sarah T. Owen, May Harmon, Jessie A. McCarthy, Minnie Mucson, Lulu J Corwin, Ellen Aitchinson, Mary M McShane, Sarah L Reynolds

The committees on the several schools reported the following recommendations and the appointments were accordingly made:

BUSINESS OF THE NEXT COURT

Large Calendar for the June Circuit. Many Cases of Local and General Interest.

The calendar for the June Circuit of the Supreme Court, to be held at Goshen, next week, by Judge Cullen, is an unusually large one, there being 132 cases, fourteen on the preferred and the balance on the general calendar.

There are not as many suits against railroads as on some recent calendars, there being only nineteen of these actions: Eight against the Erie; three against John King as receiver; one against the O. and W., two against the Lehigh and Hudson, one against the New York and New England; one against the Port Jervis and Monticello; two against the Wallkill Valley and one against the Metropolitan Street Railroad Company of New York.

The city of Middletown is defendant in three actions and the city of Newburgh in two.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN

Some Personal and Local Notes—Goshen People Will Disconnect the Mud, and Festivals—A Novel Use to Which to Put a Statement.

From a Special Correspondent.

—Dr. Pell and son, Williamson, are the guests of Mr. J. W. Gott, at his home, on South street. Miss Antoinette Pell is visiting at the home of Rev. R. B. Clarke.
—A musical will be given at Music Hall, on the evening of July 24, under the auspices of the ladies of St. James' Guild.
—All the Goshen people, who attended the concerts, last week, are agreed in saying that this last musical festival was by far the best of the three that have been given in our village, and are almost unanimous in considering the production of the Messiah, on Friday evening as the best of the series of entertainments.
—The writer took as her theme some time since the dangers of marriage to members of the gentler sex and quoted a couple of instances of cruelty to give force to her warnings, which no doubt deterred many young women who were still hesitating on the brink of matrimony from making the fatal plunge. As the writer above all things to be fair minded, she considers it only just to show the matter under a different aspect and mention an instance of female oppression that recently came under her observation. An exchange speaks of a woman whose husband had been ill for some time with a pulmonary trouble, which caused his temperature to rise far above the normal. His spouse, instead of weakly mourning and sympathizing with him, with a presence of mind that did more credit to her business instinct possibly than to her wifely tenderness, saw in this an opportunity of utilizing her helpless husband and into the bed close beside him she popped several settings of eggs, thus causing him to serve as an incubator. If that man lives long enough he bids fair to be henpecked. Many women have been heard to announce that they "have no use for men;" but such unsophisticated ones sit at the feet of the one just mentioned and from her example learn that if they only search long and diligently and in the proper spirit they will no doubt find use, for where there is a will there is generally a way, and this woman might give a few points to the authoress of "The Heavenly Twins" herself. If women are going to set their wits to work after this fashion the men will be obliged in self defence to grant them the right of suffrage, in order to keep them innocently employed; otherwise, most likely we shall be hearing of invalid husbands with heads of heavy hair and bushy whiskers being used as patent sweepers or window mops, while those suffering from chills and fever will alternately be put in the ice chest to keep the dinner and set up in the green house for the benefit of the tropical plants.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1894.

The Supreme Court of Nebraska has decided that the eight hour law is unconstitutional because it discriminates against farm and domestic labor and is therefore special legislation, and because the constitutional right of every citizen to contract as he pleases with reference to his own compensation is denied him In spite of this decision, mechanics in any of the trades, if they are united and really desire an eight hour working day, can establish it by custom which in such matters is often stronger than law

The Democratic Senators are trying to make an arrangement with the Republicans by which a final vote on the tariff bill may be taken next week Nothing can be done until after the Republicans have delivered their speeches, for campaign effect, on the wool schedule, but after they have talked themselves out on that branch of the subject, there will be little left in the bill to wrangle over and with the three Populist Senators, Allen, Kyle and Peffer voting, steadily with the Democrats, the futility of opposition will be so apparent that it is believed the Republican Senators will consent to allow the bill to be rushed through without debate and without formal division on every schedule.

Under the rule providing for representation in Republican national conventions in proportion to the Republican vote, which was prepared by the Honorable Dave Martin, national committeeman for Pennsylvania, that State will have ninety-six delegates, thirty-two more than it had in the last convention, and the largest vote of any State. Senator Quay proposes to utilize this great voting strength and it is quietly given out that he will be a candidate for the Presidential nomination. Of course he does not really expect to secure the prize; no one knows better than Quay that he is not of the stuff of which Presidents are made, but with a solid delegation at his back he will be in a position to exercise a great influence in determining the convention's choice.

President Havemeyer, of the Sugar Trust, in his testimony before the Senate Investigating Committee, made it brutally plain that there is no sentiment and no politics in business. With the utmost sang froid he acknowledged that the Trust had contributed money to help along political campaigns, making no distinction as between Democrats and Republicans in such matters, but always seeing to it that in whatever State, county and municipality the Trust put up for political purposes, the contribution went into the treasury of the majority party. Political contributions had been made in every State in which the Trust has refineries and always to the party in control, for it would have been a waste of money to have given to the minority party which had no legislative, executive or judicial favors to bestow. He had no idea how much the Trust's contributions to political purposes had been but would have the books examined and tell the committee the amount unless his counsel advised otherwise. When asked if the Trust had contributed to the anti-sweater movement in New York, Mr. Havemeyer held up his hands in an expostulating way and fervently exclaimed "My God! I hope not." The witness most emphatically denied that the Trust had ever given any money to aid in the election of any United States Senator The most important part of Mr Havemeyer's testimony was his admission that the profits of the Trust, which he said succeeded perfectly in controlling the market for refined sugar, had not been not less than $35,000,000 in three years

THE SENATE'S PROCEEDINGS.

No Income Tax on Fraternal and Benevolent Societies—Resolution of Inquiry.

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Vest stated that the Finance Committee favored an amendment exempting beneficial, fraternal and all such societies from the income tax

A resolution was adopted, calling for information in regard to the gold reserved by the governor since Nov. 1st, '93. Also one requesting the President to inform the Senate if any foreign governments had intimated that they would retaliate for the proposed imposition of a tax on sugar by the United States.

The tariff bill was then taken up, Senator Sherman speaking thereon.

THE PRESIDENT MUCH BETTER.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—The President is much better to-day. He received a number of visitors on important business. After to-day the public receptions will be resumed.

THE PARISH TEA

A Very Pleasant and Successful Affair

The society of the "Daughters of the King," of Grace Episcopal Church, gave another Parish Tea, last evening, at the Assembly Rooms. The following pleasing programme was rendered:

Glee ..... Choir Boys
Song—"Gale Corsenna" ..... Mr. H. L. Wickham
Mazurka ..... Miss Bessie Beers
Song—The Fatal Wedding ..... Mr. Herbert Hurst
Recitation—"Dying" ..... Master John Bright
Song—A Medley ..... Moonlight Quartette
Mr Herbert Hurst, Mr. Chas Adams, Mr Chas Gordon, Mr Arthur Townsend
Recitation ..... Mr. Godney
Pianoforte Solo—"Tarantelle" .....
Miss Julia Shaim
Reading—"Three Men in a Boat" .....
Mrs. D. F. Bliss.
Song—"The Farmyard" ..... Moonlight Quartette

In spite of the oppressive atmosphere, about two hundred persons were present, and the evening passed off most pleasantly. The "Daughters of the King" deserve the warm thanks of the whole church for the energy with which they have conducted these most successful gatherings The proceeds of last evening were sixty dollars.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

Mr. George Wickham Receives a Substantial Gift from Church Friends.

Mr. George Wickham, choir master of the First Presbyterian Church, was very much surprised when he returned to his home, last evening, after a drive about the city, to find his house filled with friends from the church. Mr. James Little, as spokesman, presented Mr. Wickham with a purse containing two hundred dollars. Mr. and Mrs. Wickham gave their friends a cordial welcome and a most enjoyable evening ensued.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION.

A Very Quiet Affair—All Officers Re-elected Without Opposition

The election of officers for the Middletown Fire Department, which was held, last evening, was the quietest that has ever been held in this city in recent years. There was no opposition whatever to the candidates. The following officers were elected:

Chief—Edwin Thorpe.
1st Asst. Chief—Chas. Higbee.
2nd " " —Daniel Schmidt.
Treasurer—Ira M. Cornell.
Secretary—E T Ostrander.

SPECIAL TAX ELECTION

To be Held in the Assembly Rooms, To-morrow—The Amounts Asked For

The special tax election, to vote on the question of appropriating money for special or extraordinary purposes, as provided for in an amendment to the charter, made last winter, will be held in the Assembly Rooms, to-morrow, from 2 p. m. to 6 p. m. The voting will be by ballot and only those citizens whose names appear on the assessment rolls may vote. The amounts asked for are:

Board of Education—For addition to School No. 2, Highland avenue	$ 800 00
Permanent street improvement	5 000 00
Winding town clock	100 00
Fire alarm system	800 00
Fire parade	850 00
Thrall Hospital	1,250 00
Geo Lyon Post, G A R	50 00
Capt Wm A Jackson Post, G A R	50 00
Total	$19,000 00

There is no question that the city needs increased school accommodations and the Board of Education proposes an addition to the Highland avenue building as the cheapest, not the best, way of increasing the city's school facilities. The money ought to be voted.

Permanent street improvements are all right if they are wisely and economically made and are really permanent. Past experience has shown that many so-called permanent improvements are lacking in the one great essential of permanence. Moreover, $5,000 is a big sum to spend in one year for this purpose. Prudent taxpayers will think twice before voting for this item.

The city has run several years, even if the town clocks have not, and the appropriation for clock winding can just as well be knocked out.

The fire department items and the items for the Grand Army Posts cannot be objected to.

The Thrall Hospital item ought to be allowed. The hospital is a credit to the city, a charity of which we are all proud. The lady managers have a hard time to make ends meet, and the $1,250 asked from the city is not a large sum, when compared with the amounts granted smaller hospitals in other cities. The taxpayers of Middletown pay nothing for the support of the city's poor, and this hospital item is the only one in the budget that has charity for its object. The appropriation cannot be objected to on any valid ground, and citizens ought to vote for it with pleasure.

Lame Back—Heart Trouble, Faintness, Suffocation

Nothing Helped Till Hood's Sarsaparilla Was Given a Trial.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"For 15 years I was troubled with a lame back and pains in back of my head and neck. I could hardly endure it and was unfitted for labor. I grew worse. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended. I took one bottle and it cured me. I can do a day's work without my back troubling me. I also had heart disease, with faintness and palpitation. I

Could Not Lie Down.

Such suffocation! Am now taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for this trouble and can truly say it is the only thing I have found which gives me relief. I can now lay down with comfort, and

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

PROCEEDINGS OF LAST NIGHT'S REGULAR MEETING

The Matter of Consenting to the Electric Road on Benton Avenue Laid on the Table—Appointments of Teachers for the Ensuing Year—Few Changes in the Corps—Other Business.

The Board of Education held an adjourned meeting, last night. The matter of granting consent to the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company, to pass the Benton avenue school property, was the principal subject discussed.

Mr. Marsh appeared and stated that according to the provisions of the city charter the Board had no voice in the matter, which was entirely within the jurisdiction of the Common Council.

He, however, presented a number of arguments against the project, in substance the same as those he presented later in the evening, to the Common Council.

Messrs. Finn and Rockwell had a preliminary tilt at this meeting, caused by the former's desire to officiate in the capacity of chairman

The board heard both sides of the question and finally "laid the matter on the table."

The regular order of business was then taken up.

Applications from the present corps of teachers for re-appointment, with the exceptions of Misses Nelson and Rue, were read and ordered filed, as were applications from Sarah T Owen, May Harmon, Jennie A. McCarthy, Minnie Munson, Lulu J. Corwin, Ellen Aitchinson, Mary M. McShane, Sarah L Reynolds.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN

Some Personal and Local Notes—Goshen People still Discussing the Musical Festival—A Novel Use to Which to Put a Husband.

From a special correspondent

—Dr. Pell and his son, Williamson, are the guests of Mr. J. W. Gott, at his home, on South street. Miss Antoinette Pell is visiting at the home of Rev R B Clark.
—A musical will be given at Music Hall, on the evening of July 3d, under the auspices of the ladies of St. James' Guild.
—All the Goshen people, who attended the concerts, last week, are agreed in saying that this last musical festival was by far the best of the three that have been given in our village, and are almost unanimous in considering the production of the Messiah, on Friday evening as the finest of the series of entertainments.
—The writer took as her theme some time since the dangers of marriage to members of the gentler sex and quoted a couple of instances of cruelty to give force to her warnings, which no doubt deterred many young women who were still hesitating on the brink of matrimony from making the fatal plunge. As she strives above all things to be fair minded, she considers it only just to show the matter under a different aspect and mention an instance of female oppression that recently came under her observation. An exchange speaks of a woman whose husband had been ill for some time with a pulmonary [trouble] which caused his temperature to rise far above the normal. His spouse, instead of weakly mourning and sympathizing with him, with a presence of mind that did more credit to her business instinct possibly than to her wifely tenderness, saw in this an opportunity of utilizing her helpless husband and into the bed close beside him she popped several settings of eggs, thus causing him to serve as an incubator. If that man lives long enough he bids fair to be henpecked. Many women have been heard to announce that they "have no use for men," let such unsophisticated ones sit at the feet of the one just mentioned and from her example learn that if they only search long and diligently and in the proper spirit they will no doubt find use, for where there is a will there is generally a way, and this woman might give a few points to the authoress of "The Heavenly Twins" herself. If women are going to set their wits to work after this fashion the men will be obliged in self defense to grant them the right of suffrage, in order to keep them innocently employed; otherwise, most likely we shall be hearing of invalid husbands with heads of heavy hair and bushy whiskers being used as patent sweepers or window mops, while those suffering from chills and fever will alternately be put in the ice chest to keep the dinner and set up in the green house for the benefit of the tropical plants.

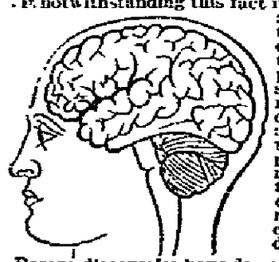
MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. Notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain and so sensitive is this portion of the nervous system that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.



Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is ascertained that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the inaction or action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist of Elkhart, Ind., has made many important discoveries in the field of nerve action, and has published a book containing the facts discovered in the above investigations, and that the ordinary maladies of [illegible] are [illegible]. An headache, dizziness, confusion, pressure, heavy [illegible], insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus' dance, are nervous diseases so [illegible] treated. The wonderful success of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principles. DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It contains neither opium nor dangerous drugs.

MARS RINGING US UP.

SCIENTISTS THINK COMMUNICATION MAY BE ESTABLISHED.

Strange Noises Which Have Aroused Mr. Preece of England and Our Own Edison. Wonderful Developments Are Expected within the Next Few Years.

Can we open up electric communication with the inhabitants of Mars? That is a question recently considered at a meeting of the Society of Arts in London, where Mr. W. H. Preece, engineer to the telegraph department of the British postoffice, read a paper on "Electric Signaling Without Wires." Mr. Preece explained how he had recently demonstrated that waves were not at all necessary to establish telephonic communication.

Under the supervision of a royal commission appointed to inquire into electric communication between the shores and lighthouses, he had conducted a series of experiments which amply demonstrated this fact. There was no difficulty in speaking between the shore and Flat Holm, three miles distance from the place of experiment. Mr. Preece then went on to say that "strange, mysterious sounds" are heard on all long telephone lines when the earth is used as a return, especially in the calm stillness of the night. "Earth currents," said he, "are found in telegraph circuits, and the aurora borealis lights up our northern sky when the sun's photosphere is disturbed by spots. The sun's surface must at such times be violently disturbed by electrical storms, and if oscillations are set up and radiated through space in sympathy with those required to affect telephones it is not a wild dream to say that we may hear on this earth a thunderstorm in the sun."

After further describing the mysterious sounds which had attracted his attention in the still watches of the night Mr. Preece said: "If any of these planets be populated with beings like ourselves, having the gift of language and the knowledge to adapt the great forces of nature to their wants, then if they could oscillate immense stores of electrical energy to and fro in telegraphic order, it would be possible for us to hold communion by telephone with the people of Mars."

These mysterious sounds which so puzzle Mr. Preece seem to correspond with those noticed by Thomas A. Edison, who has turned Ogden mountain in New Jersey into a great magnet and coiled miles of wire about it. At the time of the last opposition of Mars he noticed an increase of the seismic mutterings which have recently been so violent. Mr. Edison and Mr. Preece are only two of the scientists who are now experimenting along these lines, and the whole scientific world is watching the progress being made. Neither Mr. Edison nor Mr. Preece has been so bold as to say that the strange sounds referred to are messages sent by the inhabitants of Mars to those of earth, but they have not otherwise explained them.

On the other hand, there are many scientists firm in the belief that the next few years will witness the opening up of communication between the people of the two planets. This conviction has been enormously strengthened by the strange lights seen at the Lick observatory when Mars was under observation during its opposition a year ago. The three lights were arranged in a triangle. Nightly as the great telescope rose from horizon to 45 to the vault of heaven the lights flashed out as soon as darkness had set in, and in the immense lens of the Lick telescope they glowed with steady and continued effulgence. Was this an effort of the inhabitants of Mars to attract the attention of those on earth?

Such had been the opinion of Flammarion, who had argued in favor of earth signaling back with a triangle of lights 30 miles across. It was shown that the conditions of Mars were more nearly the same of earth than of any other planet. Both of the snow caps could be plainly seen and may be seen now in any first-class telescope. Mars is now to be observed in the morning about 30 degrees west and 11 degrees south from Venus in the constellation Capricorn. The well defined atmosphere of Mars is also plainly visible and astronomers can tell by the increase or decrease of its snow caps and its position in regard to the sun the progress of its seasons, and whether or not the Martians are having a cold winter. The canal theory of Schiaparelli has likewise many believers, who assert that the strange straight lines on Mars are canals built by its highly civilized inhabitants.

Mr. Preece says he has heard a repeat of the strange, mysterious sounds which have aroused his attention while Edison has also likewise. These will require much study to decipher if they are messages from Mars. The Preece discovery, on the other hand, puts it in the power of the people of earth to send direct electrical currents to Mars, whose inhabitants are so much in advance of ours that they may be able to help us out in the work of opening up conveyance. A pantomimic electrical interchange will be necessary for some time, but what will be the emotions of the scientific world when the message is sent out that communication has been established?

There are those who firmly assert that this is an occurrence of the immediate future, that electricity is the universal force and through which the planets will [illegible] communication with each other, if they do.

Cleopatra's Pearl.

Readers will easily call to mind the story which is told of Cleopatra, to illustrate her luxurious habits of living, that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but Mr. Lewes questions quite pointedly the possibility of such solution.

We are very sheep in our gregariousness of error. When one bold or stupid matron takes a leap, all leap after him. It is rare to find men doubting facts, still rarer to find them doubting whether the facts be correctly co-ordinated. Our books are crowded with unexamined statements, which we never think of examining.

Do we not all believe that the magnificent Cleopatra, regardless of expense, dissolved in her wine cup a pearl of great price as if it had been a lump of sugar? Is not the "fact" familiar to every one? Yet, if you test it, you will find the fact to be that pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar attacks them but very slowly and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind in the shape of a spongy mass larger than the original pearl.—Youth's Companion.

Shocking Bigotry.

The Rev. Dr. Gunsaulus tells a story of two New England old ladies who were overheard in conversation to the following effect:

"Have you met that Miss Perkins yet?"

"Yes; I was introduced to her yesterday."

"To what sect does she belong?"

"To the Universalist sect, I believe."

"To the Universalist sect! An what is their belief?"

"They believe that all human souls will eventually, by the grace of God, be redeemed."

"Oh, they do, do they? What bigotry!"—Chicago Record.

Bobby's Appreciation.

He—The dinner is simply perfect, and to show you how I appreciate it I'll just telephone down we don't want the tickets. Hope is good enough for us.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most "Cures" for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labelling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher? That it has been in use for nearly 30 years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Fac-simile wrapper of the Centaur Company, and of other genuine Castoria, bears the signature of Dr. Pitcher, and the name of the party "Castoria" and its formula, and that to counterfeit them is a State prison offence?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for your neighbor's use of Castoria has been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of the purest preparation in your children may be kept well, and that you may have valuable rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

Why Do Women?

Ask Authors Have an Amazing Way of Doing Things

I can name three or four people who find the shortest way round the world by making explorers or writers and sensible chapters of conversation, but I have to throw one very first. If any one is interested in the new issue of this to run, and among even the present numbers is of course there is probably some who know how the facts are arranged.

It was in the days when old Pat Smith, dead and gone to the great beyond, had a traveling company which played in only the smallest and poorest of all the small towns in the south and west. Smith and his company were players of a varied repertory, as every company had to do at that time, of which "Macbeth," with all of Locke's original music, was a prominent feature. But the public proved unappreciative and the times were hard. Soon Pat and his company were at low water mark and at length found themselves stranded in a little Kentucky town, from which Pat's credit could not refund to transport him to Memphis. At length he hit upon a plan. He arranged a country man to drive a strong wagon, drawn by a pair of mules, under the window of the room at the back of the tavern in a certain hour on the following night. The members of the company were to go into the street and at the appointed hour on the night in question they should throw the baggage of the guest by scrambling in the parlor and previous use of the stranger's chamber, supposed by Locke for "Macbeth," and on a hint "Out, Out, Brief Candle," in which they would join repeated over and over again. Meanwhile Pat and his most trusty lieutenant were to lower the trunks from the window to the country man, who was waiting below to receive them.

The programme was carried out to the letter. The company was singing "Out, Out, Brief Candle" for dear life in the parlor, while Smith and his men Friday were lowering their own effects as much silently and quickly as possible, but alas! not, as they hastily brought into the hands of the waiting man who was to convey them to a place of safety, but into those of the landlord, who had taken or some got wind of the matter.

As soon as the work was completed Old Pat and his company, about eight in all, accompanied by several roustabouts who had been engaged to assist them in carrying the baggage, made their way to the street door and the landlord entered, and in a loud voice said, "Excuse me, gentlemen, but you can't leave this house with your trunks."
